Class Descriptions

True Cost of Care and Market Rate Study (English & Spanish)

Denise Dowell

Participants will examine the “true cost of care”, its components, how to calculate and use as a financial management tool to operate a family child care business. Participants will examine the market rate price study (market rate survey). Participants will examine how data is utilized to establish ceiling market rates and the importance to the child care community that they participate.

(2 Hour, Set 2 – Program Management)

Observing to Understand (English & Spanish)

Tamara Trattner

Do all observations of children lead to truly seeing and understanding children? This training will cover the value and responsible use of objective observations as a teaching tool. Learn to observe with purpose. We will explore techniques and methods of observations. Participants will explore the purpose of observations in guiding and teaching young children. Examine what interferes with obtaining meaningful observations.

(2 Hour, Set 2 – Observations & Assessments)

Six Sensational Story Structures

Joann Contini

Explore the basic elements of a story and review 6 alternative story structures, methods, techniques and approaches. (Puppets, Flannel board, Painting/Storybooks, Sculpture, Rhyme & Song)

(1 ½ Hour, Set 2 - Learning Environments & Curriculum Training)

Strategies for Dealing with Difficult Family Situations (English & Spanish)

Joyce McCoy

Divorce, death, custody issues, restraining orders and in-laws are just a few of the difficult family situations child care providers encounter. In this class we will examine some of the legal and ethical issues and explore strategies for handling difficult family situations in a professional manner.

(4 Hour, Set 2 – Families & Community Systems)

Family Connections

Deborah Murphy

How do we connect with families and create good communication systems? Explore how to create and keep effective connections. Explore new and familiar techniques to foster family ties.

(4 Hour, Set 2 – Families & Community Systems)

Pieces, Pieces and More Pieces-Connecting the Communication Puzzle

Kim Ashley

We will explore both family and child dynamics and how they impact the provider personally as well as affect their relationships and communication. Participants will also learn to utilize effective communication skills, community resources, and how to balance empathy with business in order to support and empower families.
