4:00 pm ~ Conference Adjourns
Richard Cohen, M.A. has proudly been an early childhood professional for twenty-five years. For the past thirteen years, Richard has traveled the world as a motivational speaker/instructor, facilitating innovative, thought-provoking, interactive adult learning experiences for communities of early childhood teachers, administrators, caregivers and parents.

Currently, Richard serves as a member of the leadership team at the Council for Professional Recognition in Washington, D.C, supporting tens of thousands of entry-level professionals who are courageously pursuing their Child Development Associate (CDA) credential each year. Richard recently completed his responsibilities as Senior Director of Professional Development at the National Association of Child Care Resource & Referral Agencies (NACCRRRA). Prior to that, Richard served as International Vice President, Education of Learning Care Group. There he was responsible for overseeing the developmental and educational needs of thousands of child care centers, tens of thousands of early childhood professionals and hundreds of thousands of children and families all over the globe.

At Learning Care Group, Richard created the Reggio-inspired curriculum, The Empowered Child and the multiple intelligences-based curriculum, LifeSmart. Most notably, he developed his most exciting project to date: the Learning Care System, a comprehensive online lesson-planning system that allows teachers to use authentic observations and assessments, correlated with their state’s quality early learning standards, to provide truly intentional, emergent curriculum based on both children's interests and their unique developmental needs.

Richard received his Masters Degree in Human Development from the world-renowned early childhood institution, Pacific Oaks College. He is an active member of the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC) and the International Play Association (IPA).
